TOWN MEETING MONDAY

New High School Chief Question Before the Voters.
Sketches of Candidates For Public Office.
Large Vote Expected

The annual Town Meeting which comes on next Monday will undoubtedly bring out a big vote, for there are many contests and interest is being shown in various quarters over some of the candidates for Selectman, Board of Public Works, Auditors, and School Committee. An exceptionally large number of names have been added to the voting list during the past three weeks, a majority of whom are women interested in the election of the school committee. The three members whose terms expire are Frederic G. Moore, Philip F. Ripley, and Thomas E. Rhodes. These men are candidates for re-election and they are opposed by Miss Mary Byers Smith. There is a contest for the office of selectman and assessor, Walter S. Donald being opposed by Louis G. Buck of Ballardvale. For the three auditors' positions there are five candidates: the three present officials, Walter H. Coleman, Nesbit G. Gleason and David R. Lawson are opposed by Edmond E. Hammond and John S. Robertson.

The town meeting will start at 2 o'clock, with Moderator Alfred L. Ripley in charge. The warrant this year is short and unless a great deal of time is consumed in the discussion of the proposed high school building question, the meeting should

Rev. W. B. Bullen, missionary to Japan, will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Agnes Gordon of Kyoto, Japan, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Joseph W. Smith, on Central street.

One of the heaviest snowstorms of the year struck Andover yesterday, about ten inches of snow covering the ground.

Rev. J. L. Keedy of North Andover will give an address in the Free church at the mid-week service next Wednesday evening.

Miss Anne M. Downes, principal of the John Dove school, spent the week-end in Wollaston with Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Lawton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen, who are confined to their home on Chestnut street, the former with an attack of neuritis and the latter with gripe, are both improving.

The operetta, "Princess Chrysanthemum," which was to have been given in the town hall by the pupils of the Stowe school, has been postponed owing to illness in the family of Miss Pauline A. Meyer, the musical director.

The monthly meeting of the Abbot Academy Club will be held at the Hotel Vendome on Saturday, March 4, at 2.30 o'clock. A musical program will be given by two former Abbot pupils: Mrs. Florence M. True, violinist, and Mrs. J. M. O. Hewett, pianist. Tea will be served.

James Salta, proprietor of the Andover Candy Kitchen, has purchased from Michael F. Lane of Lawrence the tobacco and candy store located at 578 Essex street, Lawrence, near the transfer station. Mr. Lane will retain his interest in the poolroom and cigar store which have been conducted as part of the candy store.

Miss Emily Carter, Mrs. B. M. Allen, Mrs. Edward Boutwell, Mrs. J. M. Birdsall, Mrs. William Odlin, and Mrs. W. H. T. attended the meeting of the Essex County Conference of the Massachusetts Suffrage Association in Standish Hall, Lawrence, on Tuesday. The speakers were Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, Mrs. Claude Gilson and Mrs. Glendower Evans.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

An important meeting of Clan Johnston will be held in Garfield hall tonight.

William Clark, clerk at J. H. Campion & Co.'s store, is ill at his home on Main street.

The Woman's Relief Corps will hold a baked bean supper, March 18, in the G. A. R. hall.

Allan Buttrick is in Antrim, N. H., for the week. Martha Buttrick is spending the week with relatives in Wollaston.

The number of books issued for home use at the Memorial Hall Library during February was 3150. At Ballardvale, 641 were borrowed.

The second tournament in the series between the Knights of Columbus and the North Andover Y. M. C. A., will be held on Thursday evening, March 9.

Miss Ruth K. Whiting is away from town this week, visiting several different places. Before returning, she will attend a wedding at Great Barrington.

Earle Bryant, who recently resigned his position with the Tyer Rubber Co., has gone to Hartford, Conn. His family will leave for that city next week.

Several of the stores will close for town meeting on next Monday afternoon. The grocery stores of the T. A. Holt Co., J. H. Campion & Co., and Smith & Manning will be closed from 12 to 5 p.m.

The Society of Inquiry of Phillips Academy enjoyed a fine talk on the work of the Jacob Riis Settlement in New York City, last Sunday night. The speaker was Norman V. Donaldson, a former Andover student.

Ransom Morton Fisher, a resident of Haverhill, celebrated his 90th birthday at his home on Wednesday. Mr. Fisher's wife was a former Andover woman, Sarah Elizabeth Meader, and they were married in 1852.

The members of the Punctured Alumni Association are urged to notify the treasurer not later than Monday night, of their intention to attend the meeting on Tuesday evening, as it is necessary to know how many covers are to be laid.

The Ladies' Mission Circle of the Baptist church will meet next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Ambrose Soper, 71 Main street. The program will be taken from the February "Missions". All are cordially invited to attend.

In common with many others who are so unfortunate (?) as to have a birthday but once in four years, Miss Grace Bentley passed her eleventh birthday last Tuesday. She is the eldest daughter of T. H. Bentley, formerly of Haverhill street, Frye Village.

Forty-four years ago the 29th of February was a very cold and bright moonlight night. The roads were all dry and clear of snow, but it was zero weather. This information was given to the Townsman by Thomas Bentley, an old Frye Village resident.

Garfield lodge, K. of P., No. 172, will meet in regular convention on Monday, March 6, and it is urgently requested that all members will try and be present, as business of importance will be transacted. All transient members of the order are cordially invited.

MEN'S CLUB AND WARRANT

Large Gathering of Citizens Discuss Articles at Meeting of Free Church Men's Club. Highways Topic of Interest

The meeting on Tuesday evening held by the Free Church Men's Club brought together about 200 citizens of the town, who joined in a discussion of the articles in the Town Warrant which will come up for action before the voters on next Monday afternoon. The meeting was presided over by Edwin G. Perry, vice-president of the Club, and all present were invited to express their views on any article in which they were interested.

Some of the articles were passed over rapidly, there being no disposition on the part of the voters to urge or reject the appeal of those who were directly concerned, while other articles brought forth considerable discussion and some interesting facts were brought out by the speakers.

In regard to the appointment of a committee to prepare building by-laws, Chairman Eames of the Board of Selectmen said that the time had arrived when the town should take such action, especially for the center. Alfred L. Ripley said that the town had no ordinances or power to make any, and voters should accept the provisions asked for and building laws can then be made either for the whole town or part.

FROZEN WATER PIPES A WINTER FIRE HAZARD

Many winter fires are caused by ill-advised attempts to thaw frozen water pipes. A burning match, torch or open flame of any description should never be employed for this purpose. To wrap the pipes with oil-soaked rags and set them on fire is worse than folly; it is incendiary.

Pipes are almost invariably adjacent to walls or partitions where there is an ascending current of air to feed and spread a flame. Even if the flame does not start a fire its sudden local heat may cause the pipe to break and flood the premises with water.

RECOMMENDATION

Wrap the frozen section of the pipe with cotton cloth and pour hot water upon it (even if the hot water must be obtained from a neighbor) until the ice in the pipe gives way. Rags on the floor at the base of or under the pipe will absorb the waste water. If the freezing is too severe to yield to this treatment send for a plumber.

DISCUSS TOWN WARRANT

The articles which caused more argument than any others were those relating to the proposed new high school
and to the road extension work in the West Parish. Chairman Henry A. Bodwell of the School Committee explained what had been accomplished by the committee during the past year in regard to the proposed new high school,
and he said that he hoped the citizens
would vote to build the school. The committee, he said, had looked into the matter of location thoroughly and had sought professional advice from the firm of Olmsted Brothers. The conclusion reached was that the proper place for the building would be in front of the present building. This would mean that the present structure could be saved
for other purposes if the town thought it advisable to do so.

Barnett Rogers raised the question
regarding the name of the new school when built. He said that he was curious to know whether it was to be called the Punched High School or the Andover High School.

Charles W. Clark said that the matter of name was entirely up to the citizens of the town, but hoped that the name
"Punched High School" would be retained.

Superintendent of Schools J. Francis Allison was of the opinion that it would not be out of place to call the school the Andover High School, as the diplomas
are already made out under the titles,
"The Punched School," "The Punched
High School," and "The Punched Free School." He thought that to add another title would not overburden or handicap the school.

There seemed to be no opposition to erecting a new school or to locating it in front of the present building, but some slight objection was raised by one or two speakers in regard to retaining the old building.

Mr. Rhodes questioned the advisability of the action of the voters at the last town meeting in voting down the proposition and claimed that it would cost at least $10,000 more this year than it would have last year. This, and an added cost of $500 on road extension
work in West Parish amounting to $500,
he claimed was due to the efforts of "a preacher of economy."

In point of discussion the article relating to the extension of macadam
road from Martin Lydon's to Fish
Brook took up most of the evening.

Samuel H. Boutwell, one of the petitioners, spoke in favor of the appropriation of $3500 for this work, saying that the particular piece of work referred to was absolutely necessary and the need was urgent. He said that for the last two years little or nothing had been done in that section of the town
and that in the spirit of fairness the town
should spend something on the roads.
He said that the residents in his district
were heavy taxpayers and that they should be recognized when money was to be spent on the highways. He said that the idea was not to have a special appropriation, but to take the $3500
from the regular highway appropriation
and not increase the tax rate.

Thomas E. Rhodes took up the issue with Mr. Boutwell and refuted the charge that nothing had been spent in the latter's district. Mr. Rhodes said that Mr. Boutwell knew better when he made such a statement. He continued outlining the policy of the Board of Public Works in regard to building new roads and keeping in repair what we already have. He said that the policy of the Board was to build out from the center of the town, and in due course of time all the roads in Andover would be taken care of. He claimed that the efficiency of the Board was lost when restraining hands were put over it through action of the voters or otherwise. He said that he preferred to be off the board if it could not have free
rein in carrying out its policy for good roads.

Joseph Chambers spoke strongly in favor of road work in West Parish and claimed that taxpayers in that section
were being ignored. James K. Dodge, superintendent of the Hood Farm, also urged the board to consider West Parish in their plans for 1916. He told of the difficulties in traveling over some of the roads, especially in the spring and fall.

On the articles for new lights, Henry
A. Bodwell asked Mr. Rogers, chairman of the Street Lighting Committee, why
the town paid $16 for each incandescent
light when private citizens paid only $13.90 for the same service. Mr. Rogers said he had spoken to the Lawrence Gas
Co. about that and expected an answer
before town meeting.

The remaining articles were passed through hurriedly without discussion
and at the close of the meeting the club
extended a vote of thanks to the town
officials for coming to the meeting and giving their views on the various questions.

Postal Regulations

According to postal regulations, contents of insured parcel post packages
must be stated before they are sent.

arately with excelsior.

How We Read

Oliver Wendell Holmes owned up to his preference for reading in books to reading through them. "When I set out to read through a book," the autocrat wrote, "I always felt that I had a task before me, but when I read in a book it was the page or the paragraph that I wanted, and which left its impression and became a part of my intellectual furniture." If we were only franker, most of us would confess to being like Holmes
in this matter of our reading.

BOSTON THEATRES

MAJESTIC

William Hodge's latest vehicle, "Fixing Sister," which starts its fourth week
of a pronounced success at the Majestic
on Monday night next, March 6th, is the seventh notable portrayal of native American character roles that this popular favorite has presented to the American stage. In "Fixing Sister," as in his previous successes, "The Road to Happiness" and the "Man from Home," Hodge has achieved a triumph seldom experienced by actors who have made one decided hit. "Fixing Sister," from the unparalleled reception it has received during the short time it has been seen in Boston, bids fair to equal if not surpass the successes that Mr. Hodge has achieved in "The Man from Home"
and "The Road to Happiness."

The fact is that Mr. Hodge stands alone in his peculiar line of parts. He has a unique personality that exactly fits the distinctly American types.

Bargain matinees are given on Wednesdays, when the best orchestra seats
may be secured for one dollar.

WILBUR

It is generally conceded that Roi
Cooper Megrue and Walter Hackett's farce, "It Pays to Advertise," beginning
its last week at Ye Wilbur Theatre next Monday, March 6th, is one of the best plays seen on the American stage in many seasons.

"It Pays to Advertise" presents the very essence of American spirit, American humor and American character.
As a matter of fact, "It Pays to Advertise" is one of those plays that provoke real hearty mirth. The sort that makes you throw your head back until it rests
on the back of your chair and laugh to your heart's content.

It is a rarely amusing, well-written and well-acted play, and like all the best pieces of its kind, it is founded on an original idea, which we will not disclose
for fear of spoiling the enjoyment of prospective patrons.

Seeing "It Pays to Advertise" furnishes a buoyancy that finds expression
in much hearty laughter, besides inspiring a determination to emulate the example of the young man in the play who,
deciding to enter upon a business career,
finds success through the medium of a
publicity campaign that embraces love,
printer's ink and the soap industry
mixed in such admirable proportions
as to make for continuous merriment
throughout its presentation.

SHUBERT

Lou Tellegen, America's most famous
young romantic actor, who recently married Geraldine Farrar, the operatic star,
will appear at the Shubert Theatre next Monday, March 6th, for a limited engagement in a new play by J. and L.
DuRocher MacPherson, called "A King of Nowhere."

The new play represents Mr. Tellegen's return to the stage in the type of romantic vehicle in which he has un-
failingly made his greatest successes,
and in which he first came to this country with Sarah Bernhardt, whose leading man he was for three seasons in Paris and New York.

Playing opposite Mr. Tellegen is Miss
Olive Tell, a graduate of the famous Morocco organizations, and said to be one of the most beautiful blondes on the American dramatic stage. Mr. Tellegen plays the part of Sir Godred, a Celtic Knight, who is imprisoned by order of Henry VIII.

The play is produced by the Garrick
Company of which Miss Jessie Bonstelle
is the brilliant and widely known director. The cast is composed of names well known both along Broadway and throughout the country as those of leading artists in the dramatic profession.

HOLLIS

With the same evidences of undiminished
success that have marked the Boston engagement of "Daddy Long Legs" from the beginning, this tremendously popular comedy with Henry Miller and Ruth Chatterton in the principal roles, continues its merry way at the Hollis Street Theatre. The attraction is now in its sixth week and has established a record for box office receipts which it is exceedingly doubtful whether it will be duplicated in Boston again this season. No comedy produced in recent years possesses the sweetness, the wholesomeness and the general fascination which are embodied in "Daddy Long Legs."

While no definite date for a change of attraction at the Hollis has been announced the engagement of "Daddy
Long Legs" is necessarily a limited one.
Matinee days are Wednesday and Saturday.

PARK SQUARE

Next week will be the last of "Rolling Stones" at the Park Square theatre, Boston. Theatregoers have never met,
either in the realms of fancy or fact a
more fascinating pair of adventurers than Dave Fulton and Buck Ryder, the two principal characters of this, Edgar Selwyn's latest comedy. But now only eight more performances remain for this rollicking comedy of youth, love
and adventure, which is presented by Selwyn & Co.

"Rolling Stones" ripples with fun,
adventure and romance. Its action is swift, its comedy unforced and its characters are real. The locale is in Chicago, and the story revolves around the amusing efforts of two young adventurers to prove that the world owes every man a living. Dave Fulton and Buck Ryder, poverty-stricken and desperate, decide to commit suicide and to rob respectively. Fortunately they meet accidentally on the Clark Street bridge
at midnight and each thwarts the others
plans.

Both fall in love at the same time and the difficulties that beset them both in romance and in business life provide
most of the comedy.

Mr. Ruggles appears as Dave Fulton
and Harrison Ford as Buck Ryder,
Marie Carroll and Margaret Brainerd
are the sweethearts of the two adventurers.

The matinees at this theatre are on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and the management assures all out of town
patrons that mail orders will be carefully filled.

PLYMOUTH

"Heart o' th' Heather" in which George MacFarlane is the stellar player,
begins its second week at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, next Monday. Not in years has there burst upon the attention of playgoers such a brilliant player of sterling ability, whose voice
is recognized as the best of manly bar-itones, and in this charming comedy of Scotch story he makes the central figure
a most lovable and endearing character.
The opening last Monday night was one of continued enthusiasm, for the whole production struck responsive
chords in the minds and hearts of the auditors, who unanimously praised both player and play. The learned reviewers of the press were unstinted in their praise of it, and all indications point
to a long and prosperous engagement. The story is a quaint and appealing one, the locale
being Scotland in the early 18th century, and there comes to the little Scottish town of Burley Brig, an adventuresome
youth just home from travels over the four seas. Needless to say, he falls in love with the daintiest of daughters of the Highlands, but the path of true love is no smoother for him than for most, and complications such as were common in those romantic days make for difficulties, the surmounting of which the adventuresome young blade
accomplishes in his dashing manner.
During the action of the comedy Mr.
MacFarlane sings several new songs,
and few there are in the country who have not a good knowledge of his wonderful voice, for the disk machines have found his records the most popular of any singer.

The matinees at this theatre are given on Thursdays and Saturdays,
the Thursday matinee being popular priced, and all mail orders will receive prompt attention.

TREMONT TEMPLE

"The Battle Cry of Peace" begins the second week of its return engagement
at popular prices at the Tremont Temple, Boston, next Monday. It is presented in cooperation with the National Security League as an aid and endorsement of President Wilson in his great Preparedness campaign.

The power of words as persuaders has been subservient to the power of example, and as is well proven, experience is the more potent of all. But in such a horrifying thing as war the latter is
the least desirable inculcator of wisdom,
and in the recognized crisis which
this country is placed at the present time the drama is by far the best exemplar to reveal to the masses a truth which they should know. And in this respect the camera film far surpasses the spoken drama owing to the wide
field of its operations and comprehensiveness. For years all measures advocating proper military and naval defences have been defeated in whole or in part by the influence of the pacifists fanatics because of the fact that the sponsors for such measures invariably stated that they were preparations for war. Peace, like a jewel of great price, must be guarded lest the hand of the despoiler make away with
it. No woman would leave her diamonds or pearl necklace on the front porch when she retires for the night. Yet that is what the people of America are asked to do by the pacifists—to leave their lives and their liberties, not to mention their wealth,
the honor of their wives and daughters and the very existence of their nation,
on the front doorstep while they dream
of a distant millennium of universal peace. The happenings of the last two years have proved to every soul
thinker that such an event is now
farther away than prior to the great world conflict. Thus the mission of this great film is of the utmost importance as an awakener of necessary action.

There are two performances daily at 2 and 8 P. M., and all seats are reserved, the prices ranging from 15 to 50 cents.

Electric Steel Production

Electric steel appears to be making much progress in Germany. A report for 1914 shows the total production
of crucible and electric steel to have been 184,400 tons and the electric product was nearly 90,000 tons—only 8,500 less than the output of crucible
steel. And more electric furnaces were expected. Of the 20 plans producing electric steel eight were making high grade material to supplant crucible steel and 12 employed the electric furnace to melt ferro-manganese. The induction furnace was most used of the various types.

Resourceful

Since the cold weather has set in along the Osoyoos, it is reported in Berlin that General Cadorna, the Italian commander, has ordered set up to serve as heaters in the trenches large numbers of the chestnut and peanut roasting machines which had been relegated to idleness when their professional operators were called to the colors.

McDOUGALL'S MUSINGS

A Round-About Paper

I received a letter from a New York friend the other day. This friend is a democrat and voted for Wilson. Speaking about politics he says: "Rotten is the right name for our New York
politics, and President Wilson is just a cheap politician like all the others." I do not know what this New Yorker
would say today, when this man he calls
a cheap politician defies Congress and says that our right to the sea as a highway for our commerce must be kept
inviolate whatever be the consequences.
Senator Lodge agrees with President Wilson and says that every American without regard to party should support
the president in this matter of the world's highway.

No doubt many of the Townsman
readers have heard the story of the Quaker who said he would not fight as it was against his religion to do so. Being on board a ship that was in danger of being in a fight with a pirate, the sailors told the captain when they were clearing the deck for action, to put that "land lubber" of a Quaker down in the hold out of the way. The captain being a good judge of human nature, told them
to let the fellow alone, as he might be useful as a target when it came to close quarters. The first man from the pirate ship that tried to come on board was caught up by the Quaker and thrown overboard and told by the Quaker,
"Keep thine own vessel, friend!"

Mr. Marvin tells the wise men of the Home Market Club that the European war has saved the woolen trade from ruin; that free wool and 50 per cent on woolen goods spells ruin. If the woolen trade cannot exist with free wool and 50 per cent on the goods they make there is something wrong with the woolen trade.

The cry was that by the Underwood
Bill the sheep industry would be ruined.
By the last reports I find that there was more wool raised in this country since Underwood & Co.'s Bill was in force
than under the old Republican tariff.
I notice that a vessel from Australia is now discharging a $2,000,000 cargo of wool in this country. In a letter I got lately from a friend in the West who keeps sheep, he says that if the sheep had no wool on their backs, the price of mutton today will prevent the ruin of the business, and that the wool is only a by-product, and the expense of shearing the sheep, taking care of the wool

and sending it to the railway station
costs money.

In these musings I have more than once said that this country without a tariff on textile goods could not compete with Europe; at the same time we must not ignore the consequences of the tariff in making the cost of many things higher here. I quote from a Scottish newspaper two advertisements of houses
to let, just half the rent of what we would pay in this town; £12 a year is just $60, equal to $5 a month; £30 a year is just $150—$12.50 a month.

HOUSE to let, three bedrooms, parlour, kitchen,
scullery, water; coach-house, 2-stall stable, and garden; X12; May term or immediate entry.
Nicoll, Homeleigh, Bankfoot; James Mitchell Bankfoot.

detached villa of 2 public rooms, 3 bedrooms,
2 large attic rooms, kitchen, sc

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

NORTH ANDOVER

The selectman met Monday night and decided to lay out according to the plans Richardson Court and Linden avenue.

Arthur Daw, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Daw of Second street is employed as a chemist at the plant of the New England Manufacturing company of South Woburn where a terrific explosion occurred Monday night.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. met Monday night at Merrimack hall and the salad supper to be held March 16 was talked over. There will be another meeting of the association Monday night. Miss Nellie Murphy presided.

Just 51 new names were added Saturday to the voting list, 41 of which were males and 10 females, at the last session of the North Andover Board of Registrars of Voters previous to the annual town election to be held March 6. The board was in session from 12 noon to 10 p.m. at the selectmen's office. This is the largest voting list in the town's history, there being 1268 male voters and 30 female voters, 968 of the male being in precinct 1 and 16 of the female, the remainder being in precinct 2.

Mrs. James M. Thomson of 71 Pleasant street, North Andover was given a surprise party by about 50 of her friends from Lowell, Lawrence, Andover, Methuen, North Andover and other places. She had been invited to attend a social affair at the home of Mrs. Isabella Garrett, 17 Harkaway road. Soon after arriving Mrs. Thomson was presented with a costly mantel clock of colonial design. Daniel Loudon of Andover presented. Mrs. Thomson was surprised and appropriately responded, thanking all for their kindness. An entertaining program of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and dancing was provided and an appetizing collation was served. Among the numbers was a Gaelic song, rendered by Alexander McKinnon.

Many local people attended the whist party by the Young Men's Catholic Association in Merrimack hall Monday night. An entertainment followed. The winners at whist: Lady's first prize, Miss Margaret Leacock, boudoir cap, 33 points; second Miss Nellie Costello, box of linen handkerchiefs, 27 points; and consolation, Miss Lena Morrissey, large lemon squeezer, 7 points; Gent's first, James Gillespie, large silk handkerchiefs, 37 points; second, John J. Costello, pair silk hose supporters, 34 points; and consolation, James Smith, Chinese slippers, 8 points. Herbert Proctor sang several selections, and John Alexander entertained with Scottish impersonations. Miss Agnes Doyle of Lawrence presided at the piano. Previous to the games, the rooms were in darkness for a few minutes because of a defect in the lighting system which was soon remedied. The committee comprised Maurice Casey, president of the association, Edward A. Morrissey and George Leacock.

In the annual report of the school committee in the town report, much space is given to the needs of an addition to the high school to accommodate the ever increasing influx of pupils, increasing steadily each year, and to the needs of a school in the Waverly Park district. Nothing, however, appears to be said about the conditions in the Kimball district where there is a small old building, unsanitary, and unable to meet the needs of people there, as claimed by those who live in that section taxpayers, and those who are fighting for better conditions. A new building there would be a matter of only about $3,000, they say, and it would be money well expended. Although the matter has been brought to the attention of the school board, yet they seem to have turned a deaf ear and it is even said, several promises to look over the situation there have not been kept. The fact that the school is not centrally located there is borne out by some children there being transported to the Centre school.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Willis A. Tilton, 150 Railroad avenue, was the scene of a very pleasurable affair, Saturday evening, the occasion being a surprise party tendered former President and Mrs. Arthur L. Redman by members of the North Andover Dramatic club. In response to an invitation extended by Mrs. Tilton the members of the club gathered at her home. After a while, Harry L. Bunker stepped forward, and in behalf of those assembled, presented Mr. Redman with a travelling bag and Mrs. Remund with a bureau set. The presentation speech was a capital one, and replete with felicitous sentiments. The recipients of the elegant gifts were genuinely surprised and it was some moments before they recovered their composure sufficiently to gratefully reply. The evening was devoted to games, vocal and instrumental music and social converse. Miss Bessie M. Conney and William E. Glines were the winners in the musical games. Miss Hulda Lamprey won first prize in the donkey party and William E. Glines the consolation. A nice collation was served. Donald Thomson, who impersonated a colored butler, contributed much to the pleasure of the affair. The committee of arrangements included Harry L. Bunker, chairman; William Cameron, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. George J. Van Buskirk, Mrs. William E. Glines, Miss Mabel Sanford, Raymond J. Neil and Donald Thompson.

METHUEN

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Schuyler of Morristown, N. Y., have been visiting with friends in town for a few days past.

Saturday night rallies were held at several of the clubs about town when some of the candidates addressed the members.

Hon. Harry G. Wells, president of the state senate, will deliver an address in the Oakland M. E. church, Wednesday, March 15.

The comedy, "My Mother-in-Law" which is to be presented in Nevins Memorial hall tonight will have among the cast of characters a number of well known people who have presented successful dramas in Lawrence. Dancing will immediately follow the drama and music will be furnished by the Bardsley orchestra.

A meeting under the auspices of the Samuel Adams chapter, D. A. R., was held at Phillips chapel Saturday afternoon in the interest of the Red Cross work. Another meeting will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Phillips chapel when instructions will be given in making bandages, etc., used in the Red Cross work.

There will be a special town meeting following the regular session of March 11. At the special gathering the voters will be asked to consider the adoption of the form of government which gives the town restricted town meetings. This means that delegates will represent the voters instead of having the voters assemble. The bill authorizing it failed to pass the General Court in time to be placed on the town ballot this year and a special meeting of the voters will be called to act on its adoption or rejection. Literature informing the voters on the plan they will be called to pass on is being issued. The committee in charge of the publicity of the proposed change in town meetings: Edwin J. Castle, James H. Lyons, George A. Bunting, Burton W. Libby, John D. Emerson.

The Hampshire Road Improvement society, held a special meeting Monday evening at which the following candidates, aspiring for office at the coming town election, addressed the members. Candidates for selectman: James H. Lyons, William L. Stedman, Samuel Rushton, Henry Dean, William H. Russell, David Woodbury and James Watt; candidates for assessor: Samuel Joy, Walter Spicer, David Ackroyd, and Arthur Barnby; candidate for superintendent of streets: Robert Dow and Otis Trussell; candidate for tax collector, Walter L. S. Gilcrest; candidates for water commissioner: Frederick Gay, Elliott Spooner, W. T. Parlow, Henry Spottiswood and George Craig; candidate for school committee, John W. Rawnsley; David Fortune, a member of the society addressed the candidates very forcibly at the close of the meeting. Senate La Grange acted as chairman of the evening. The meeting was largely attended.

There are 34 candidates for office at the town election Monday, March 6. They are: Albion G. Peirce, moderator; Joseph S. Howe, town clerk; Walter L. S. Gilcrest, tax collector, all unopposed. Harry H. Johnson, trustee of Nevins memorial, Frank Sharples, town auditor, and Herbert P. Wilkinson, cemetery commissioner. Nine selectmen have entered the field. They are: Selectmen James H. Lyons, William Stedman and Samuel Rushton, for reelection; James Watt, David D. Woodbury, Thomas N. Hubbard, William H. Russell, Henry Dean, Oscar Weller. For assessor there are: Arthur Barnby, Walter Spicer, David H. Ackroyd, Arthur W. Hutchins and Samuel Joy. For water commissioner: Frederick W. Gay, Elliott P. Spooner, Henry T. Spottiswood, William J. Parlow, George W. Craig. Tree warden candidates: Alfred Wagland and Fred J. Roberts. School committeemen: John W. Rawnsley, G. Fred Hillis and Walter Hastings. Robert W. Dow will be opposed for highway surveyor by Otis N. Trussell, William J. Oliver and Abel Marsland, Jr., as constables.

Hon. Louis S. Cox, district attorney of Essex county, delivered an address on "The Enforcement of the Laws and the Agencies and Offices Opposed Thereto," at the meeting of the Christian league of Methuen, at the Congregational church, Sunday night. He gave his auditors, who comprised members from all Methuen churches, an insight into the legal machinery of the county and the machinations and intrigue which opposed justice in the community. The annual election of league officers and the reading of reports preceded Hon. L. S. Cox's address. The old officers were re-elected as follows: President, William D. Hartshorne; secretary-president, Rev. A. Gertrude Earle; secretary-treasurer, Rev. C. H. Oliphant. A resolution introduced by G. H. Richardson calling upon Methuen citizens to stand by the officers of the law was unanimously passed. Upon vote of the executive committee union services will be held Passion week. Exercises preceding the meeting consisted of Scripture reading by Rev. A. Gertrude Earle, prayer by Rev. R. E. Thompson. The report of delegates to the convention of state federation of churches was made by Rev. John W. Moore. The report of Rev. C. H. Oliphant, secretary-treasurer, showed $150 expended during the past year.

LAWRENCE

The Lawrence high school relay quartet fell a victim to their Lowell rivals, at Boston, Saturday. Lowell finished a winner by 12 yards. Heathcock was handed a 20 yard lead by the Lowell runners but Billy Higgins pulled it down eight yards. Higgins ran a beautiful race and was given a fine hand by the spectators. Walter Whalen of Exeter broke the record for the high jump and Garton of the Moses Brown school equalled the 1000 yard record.

The sudden cold snap of Sunday undoubtedly proved a boon for Lawrence and other cities of the Merrimack Valley in serving to check the rise of the river which was growing to dangerous proportions. Had the warm weather continued permitting the ice to break up, a flood would have resulted that might have caused serious damage. The highest level reached was 41.16 at 2 a.m. Monday morning which is approximately three feet above normal. Owing to the cold however, the river is now on the decrease and no danger is anticipated.

Tolstoi's remarkable story "Where Love is, God is" was the story read by Rev. C. Guy Robbins, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Universalist, at the vesper service at the church Sunday afternoon. The service, which was the fifth in the series of six, was largely attended, every seat in the church auditorium being taken. The musical part of the program was also of an unusually high order; Madam Calvert, soprano, presenting several beautiful solos, she was assisted by Miss Cooper, violinist and Miss Bernice Neale, cellist. E. E. Davis was the organist.

Edward Howard Griggs, A. M. L. H. D., delivered the second of his series of six Ibsen masterpieces to be given under the auspices of the White Fund before a large and appreciative audience February 24 in the City hall when he lectured on "Ibsen and Feminism; A Doll's House." The play "A Doll's House" which the speaker characterized as Ibsen's first original dramatic work was written when he was 51 years old. It deals with a Norwegian home as an example of the old order of society with the man holding the whip hand and the purse strings, both of which were brought out prominently by the lecturer.

Probably no bank in New England will be so elegantly finished as the new Bay State when the remodeling now in progress has been completed. The walls from ceiling to floor are of imported Grecian marble especially matched. The counter which is 7 feet 6 inches high is of marble and bronze and the wood trimmings throughout are of mahogany. The check desk is of bronze and a marble settee is installed along the wall. In the corner on Essex and Lawrence streets there is a beautiful fireplace of specially designed and matched marble and both entrance doors are of bronze. The marble furnishings are from the Tolinson Marble company of Boston and the bronze from Tiffany and company of New York. The bank will be ready for opening March 22, subject to the arrival of the bronze which has already occasioned some delay. The remodeling is being done by E. A. Peabody and Son company.

The Phillips Andover academy glee and mandolin clubs pleased an audience of good size in the Young Men's Christian association Thursday evening, February 24. Although it is a short journey from Andover to this city, the Phillips academy musical clubs are strangers here and now that the Y. M. C. A. has established a precedent it is to be hoped that the school boy musicians will visit here oftener. The playing and the singing was most enjoyable and after many of the numbers encores were demanded. There was one local boy with the clubs, Albert Liversidge. The gymnasium was draped with American flags and blue and white bunting, the school colors. At the conclusion of the program the members of the clubs were served refreshments by the committee in charge of the evening's affair: Frank Swindells, Harold Cate, Wilfred Lord, William McQuestion, A. C. Dame, George Houston, George Robert, C. R. Harrison. The Andover students came to Lawrence and returned to Andover on a special car.

The tentative 1916 schedule for the high school football team, announced February 24 by Coach Walter A. Sidley, calls for ten games, opening on Sept. 30 with Concord, N. H., high at Concord, and closing Thanksgiving day with Lowell high at Lowell. It will be the last game under the four year agreement with the Lowell high school team and whether or not the agreement will be renewed until after next fall's game. Lynn Classical high school will play in Lawrence for the first time in the history of the sport, although these schools have met twice at baseball. The biggest county championship game at home will be played with Beverly high, Nov. 18. The game with the Boston high school of Commerce will be the second under the four year agreement between the two schools. Of the teams who appeared on the 1915 schedule Cambridge Latin, Somerville, and Medford have been dropped. There is one open date, October 21, and several schools are being considered for that day.

BOWLING

Smith &amp; Dove League Ended

The final round of the Smith & Dove Bowling League has finished, with the Office team leading with a good margin. The only team to hold its own with the strong bowling of the champions was the Repair No. 2, which split even in the last match of the season with the Office and took second place.

DEATH OF HENRY JAMES

London, Feb. 29.—Henry James, the novelist, died at his Chelsea residence last evening. He had been ill for several months, but late in January his physicians reported that he was improving. The affection from which he suffered, however, was complicated by two strokes of apoplexy.

James was born an American, but died a British subject. In July, 1916, he took the oath of allegiance to the crown, explaining that he had lived and worked in England for forty years and had developed such an attachment for the country and sympathy with its people that he desired to throw his moral weight and personal allegiance into the British cause in the European war.

The distinguished novelist, critic and playwright was born in New York, April 15, 1843.

Granite Workers Strike
Quincy, Mass., March 2.—Twenty-five hundred employees in the granite quarries here refused to continue work because of their failure to reach an agreement with manufacturers in the matter of a new wage schedule for either three or five years. The old schedule expired Feb. 29.

Suit Settled For $1,250,000
New York, March 2.—The New Haven railroad's suit against John L. Billard, former director, for $2,700,000 has been settled out of court and the suit withdrawn upon Billard's cash payment of $1,250,000, it was announced by the New Haven company.

Wife Slayer Sentenced
Plymouth, Mass., March 2.—Joseph L. Roy of Brockton, who shot and killed his wife, Albertine, was found not guilty of murder by reason of insanity by a jury here. He was sentenced to the insane department of the Bridgewater state farm for life.

Treaty With Hayti Ratified
Washington, Feb. 29.—The senate unanimously ratified the treaty with Hayti under which the United States assumes a protectorate over the turbulent island republic.

PLANT BLOWN UP

Boston, Feb. 29.—With a roar that shook the countryside for a radius of thirty miles, the trinitrotoluol building of the New England Manufacturing company of Woburn, makers of war munitions for the allies, blew up at 1 o'clock this morning, and at daylight was a mass of smouldering ruins.

There were about fifteen men in the trinitrotoluol building when the explosion of acids took place. They rushed from the structure and all escaped serious injury except Frank Cornett, who is in a hospital with an injured back and numerous cuts.

The explosion, it is stated authoritatively, resulted from the failure of two liquids used in the manufacture of trinitrotoluol, a high explosive, to fuse.

DIAZ ON THE MARCH

Said to Have an Army of Thirty Thousand Men in Mexico

New York, March 2.—General Felix Diaz sailed from New Orleans on Feb. 18 for Tuxpan, a Gulf of Mexico port, on a vessel owned by him, according to information to the New York Herald. He is said to have joined a force waiting for him in the interior, marching then to Oaxaca headquarters.

Diaz has opened communication with the United States and France by way of Guatemala, The Herald says. A close personal friend in this city is named as authority for the statement that Diaz has 30,000 men under arms.

Chaplin to Get $670,000 Salary
New York, Feb. 28.—Charlie Chaplin, the film comedian, signed a contract with the Lone Star Film corporation, formed to exploit the movie comedian, for a salary of $670,000 for his first year.

The Editor's Last Word

What is a poor fellow to do when he promises for the first time in ten years to go to church with his wife, keeps the promise, and wakes up the next morning to find that his absence from another function has led some one to say that he didn't have the courage to stand up and maintain his position? Must he of necessity stay away from church another ten years in order not to have this happen again?

It is quite sure that the meeting at the Free church last Tuesday evening in which town affairs were discussed and in which the discussion was listened to by two hundred or more citizens, was of value to the community, but that it failed to be as valuable as it ought to have been was probably due to the more or less haphazard manner in which the affair was carried on. Of course, it gave an opportunity to two or three men who usually talk at great length, and some others who talk out of great prejudice, and a few others who talk without having any real reason why, to set forth opinions of greater or less value. It isn't necessary to make any reference to the personal charges made in any part of this discussion, any more than it is in other discussions that are coming frequently in connection with public matters. It is to be regretted that eight weeks of facts and figures, not a single one of which has been refuted, should have had no other effect upon some of our good citizens than to lead them to say some things that were said at the meeting in the Free church last Tuesday evening, and because the writer was not able to be present and answer, is the reason for the opening paragraph of this brief comment.

Let us briefly review some pertinent thoughts for Andover voters to have in their minds when they come up to the discussion of public matters next Monday.

First: The whole trend of Massachusetts development at the present time is being seriously handicapped, and in many cases absolutely retarded by the burdens placed upon the citizens of Massachusetts, men, women, and children, by the excessive cost of government and the increasing burden of taxation upon business to care for that cost.

Second: The biggest part of this burden is represented in the local tax levy. It reaches every living being in the community, directly or indirectly. It has increased in Andover the past two years seven times as rapidly as has the population, and four times as rapidly as has the valuation of the town which represents the ability of the town to pay the tax.

Third: The result of this condition in Andover is reflected in an increased tax rate, in a lessening of local development by means of building construction, and in a hesitancy on the part of investments that means a still further increase to the burden put upon the community because of a doubtful growth the coming year to meet the probable further increase.

Fourth: The responsibility for this condition is not placed upon, and cannot be placed upon, any single individual, any system of local government, or any particular official involved in local government. It is entirely due to the general drift, more pronounced in Massachusetts than in any State in the Union, which makes the Massachusetts problem and the Andover problem of peculiar importance to the Massachusetts and Andover citizen in this particular year of our Lord, 1916.

Fifth: Little can be done at the coming March meeting to relieve the situation this year. Much can be done in the discussion and consideration of public matters to prepare the public mind for more interest in these public questions, to the end that at least a start can be made toward relief in the near future.

Sixth: The most important start to be made this year is associated with the work of the Finance Commission, which has never thus far approximated the intent of those who created it, or in any appreciable degree realized the results which many believed could be secured through the full use of the powers the said commission possesses. On Tuesday, March 7, this commission should organize, and should thus begin its work for next year; not with reference to existing conditions nearly so much as with reference to a reorganization of all departments under such new conditions as would bring about larger cooperation, more efficient service, and marked economy.

There has been no other aim behind this series of articles than to bring about an awakened conscience in control of those men in Andover responsible for the government of the town, and answerable to every individual in the town for the manner in which the government is carried on.

The Result of Indigestion

At a special meeting a year ago, under the sort of pressure that has been rather effective all over the country for the last few years, the Abbott Village section of Andover succeeded in getting sufficient support to approve the introduction of a sewerage system. This support was bound to come whenever the Board of Health was ready to approve the proposition, and it did come unanimously on the night when the meeting was held, after the Chairman of the Board took that position.

It did not come, however, without certain of the citizens expressing considerable doubt as to the manner in which it was presented, and upon the question of whether or not all phases of it had been properly considered. People in the Village itself were so anxious to have the sewer that they were almost unwilling to have any question that would imply any possible delay. Certain people in town made considerable political capital out of it. Undoubtedly some men have been defeated for office since that time because of their attitude on that question; certainly the question has had some bearing upon the political success of more than one man, and at the present time, in the existing contest for the Board of Public Works, the issue is again up and men are attempting to score in politics on this same old issue.

The issue at the present time, however, is a sequel to the preliminary action taken a year ago, but a bitter sequel for the people in Abbott Village unless relief is secured from the people of the town at large. The sequel is in the form of a probable assessment for the people in that section of at least three times as much per running foot for their share of the cost of putting in their sewer as was paid by the people in other sections of the town at the time of the original introduction of the system. This matter was not ignored at the preliminary meeting. It was, however, overwhelmingly hooted out of the discussion by some people who ought to have known better, and was ridiculed and characterized as an attempt to obstruct.

The matter cannot be acted upon at the coming meeting because there is no article in the warrant to cover it. It must again come at a special meeting, with all that is involved at the, packed special meeting, but let us hope that one lesson has been sufficient to teach not only the people of Abbott Village who are directly involved in what may happen in the nature of assessments, but the entire voting population of the town, as to what always happens when matters are acted upon and approved, without proper consideration, and without being passed upon by people who have knowledge of the serious issues that may be involved.

It would seem almost as if Andover had had about enough of incompetence in handling such matters as this in the town's most important public department. When the taxpayers get their tax bills a year from now, carrying an unexpected assessment representing two dollars on the thousand for some particular year when it is cleaned up, they may realize that there are two types of public officials, those who pretend to know it all and know little, and those who have had enough experience in their own business affairs to justify the public in placing dependence upon their judgment on public affairs. There isn't the least question but that the town will be fair with Abbott Village, but it would be most unfortunate if the lesson that ought to be learned from this situation is not learned by the voters of the town.

An Important Matter

Attention is particularly directed to Article 4 of the Warrant, with reference to the acceptance of certain provisions in Chapter 655, Acts of 1913, which relate to prevention of fire and preservation of life. The provisions of this chapter constitute a revision of Section 1 and Sections 4-12 (inclusive), of Chapter 104 of the Revised Laws. At the present time the town has no ordinance or by-law regulating the inspection, construction, alteration and use of buildings. In this particular, therefore, it should provide itself with proper and reasonable rules.

If the town acts favorably upon the article, a printed report embodying the proposed rules would be submitted to each voter prior to the town meeting in March, 1917, as an amendment and addition to the present Town By-Laws.

Such rules, if accepted, would include:

- Call for the appointment of a building inspector within thirty days.
- Define and govern the erection, alteration and construction of any building within certain limits of territory.
- Provide power to examine and improve all buildings dangerous to life.
- Require examination of all plans for new buildings.

Andover has indeed been fortunate in the general excellence of her construction. It has not experienced the direct menace of the "three flatter", or "real estate promoter", and it seems the part of wisdom to develop regulations which in sane, reasonable, and fair measure will govern future construction.

The town does not desire cheap wooden apartments, tenement areas, or congested fire risks. The town does desire to prevent menace to life, danger from fire and depreciation in land values. It also wishes to encourage safe and reasonable construction, which at all times will yield a fair return upon investment.

The Board of Public Works

The problems facing the Board of Public Works grow more difficult each succeeding year. The creation of the Board was in answer to the disorganized situation controlling the various departments that were brought under this one head under the changed form of administration. That the very best results have not been secured is due to but one thing, and that is a failure on the part of the people to appreciate the importance of demanding the very highest possible efficiency that the town possesses in the men who hold positions on this Board.

The most important matter to be considered in so far as the election next Monday is concerned, is that involving the election of the right men to the Board of Public Works. There are four candidates for two places; there is no reason for a "good fellowship" to control or for the "hail fellow" to succeed, when the real test is made of what the work requires. The Townsman has no candidates and is suggesting no favorites for these two places, but it does suggest and urge every voter to weigh carefully the men who seek these places, the experience each one has had, and the training possessed to fit one or another of these men to perform a satisfactory job in this most exacting position. The question of personal like and dislike has no relation to the pencil that marks the cross. The town never needed efficiency and a full measure of service as it does today. May the choice for this important department next Monday reflect the full appreciation of this fact by the voters of Andover.

Editorial Cinder

There are some excellent men seeking the Republican nomination for District Attorney of Middlesex County this next year, but none of them has a larger claim for the support of the voters of that district than Senator Nathan A. Tufts of Waltham. At the present time Senator Tufts has probably the most important position in the Legislature as Chairman of the Taxation Committee which must frame the legislation necessary to put into operation the changed laws made possible by the Constitutional Amendment approved last year. Senator Tufts is an able lawyer, a vigorous man in everything he touches, full of the human element so necessary in the right administration of the office of District Attorney, possessed of wide acquaintance, and, all in all, the very best possible type to keep in the active public service of the Commonwealth.

WEDDINGS

BROWN—COLE
The wedding of Miss Ada Louise Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe K. Cole, and Edward Joseph Brown of Providence, R. I., took place at the bride's home on Elm street on Monday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow of the South church, in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. As the bride party descended the stairs and entered the parlor where the ceremony was performed, Lohengrin's Wedding March was played on the piano by Miss Marion Dearborn, an intimate friend of the bride. The latter was attended by her two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Cole as maid of honor, and Irene as bride bearer. The best man was George Brown of Boston, a brother of the groom.

The house was prettily decorated with palms, hemlock and cut flowers. The young couple were the recipients of many useful gifts of silver, linen, pictures and cut glass, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for a wedding tour during the early evening, amid a shower of confetti and the best wishes of many friends. They will be at home after April 1, at Providence, R. I.

Sophia H. Anderson of Middleboro and Frank E. Whiting of this town were quietly married at the parsonage on Locke street by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow at 8.00 o'clock Saturday night, February 26th.

In Andover, Wednesday evening March 1, at 22 Brechin Terrace, Samuel Murray and Annie H. H. McGrath, by Rev. F. A. Wilson.

In Andover, Monday February 28, Edward J. Brown of Providence, R. I., and Miss Ada L. Cole by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow.

LEAP YEAR SUPPER

Five Hundred Enjoy Excellent
Supper at South Church.
Entertainment a Great Success

The last supper and entertainment of the series of three given this winter by the women of the South church was held in the vestry from 6.30 until 9.30 o'clock Tuesday evening. Five hundred tickets were sold in advance, this being the largest number of tickets ever sold. The supper consisting of salads, rolls, cold ham, baked beans, pickles, coffee and cake was served on tables spread out in the various rooms downstairs, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white branches of apple blossoms made of tissue paper which was very attractive.

Home-made candies were on sale during the evening under the direction of Miss Alice Bell's Sunday School Class. Mrs. Frank L. Brigham was chairman of the general committee in charge of the affair. Several different committees had charge of the various branches.

A guessing contest took place before the entertainment commenced, twelve questions being asked for answers all ending in "age".

At the close of the guessing contest the minister made a few announcements. He named many remarkable and unusual events happening in the month of February such as "The U. S. Flag was first saluted by foreign nations in the month of February. Two of our presidents, Lincoln and Washington were born in the month of February. St. Valentine's Day occurs in the month of February. Once in 1866 there was no full moon in February, the first time such a thing ever occurred and never to occur again till 2,500,000 years. There was a most remarkable display of planets during February.

The Leap Year Entertainment was in the form of a burlesque entitled "Confessions of B. & M.". Miss Mary Alice Abbot acting as former teacher to her pupils and questioning them as to why they had never married. The reasons given by the members of the class called forth much merriment from the audience.

The teacher was then questioned as to why she had never married and after giving her reasons she declared her policy was still "watchful waiting" and "preparedness always." The old-fashioned costumes worn were very effective.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Jotham Fussy	Jonathan Holt
Dolly Flirtation	Mrs. Eugene Weeks
William Will-Not	C. J. Francis
Faithful Pass-By	Miss Harriet L. Erving
Tilly Slow-Boy	Cecil K. Bancroft
Sophia Sott	Miss Mabel Marshall
Daniel Damsel	Hugh Bullock
Hezekiah Ruler	Miss Nellie Farmer
Lyah Let-Be	Wm. H. Gibson
Everlasting Wall-Flower	Miss Ella Holt
Jedediah Jilt-Em	Fred Cheever
Sarah Seek-No-Further	Miss Lulu Abbott
Peter Popper	Herbert Ford
Dolly Willington	Miss Fenwick

The entertainment ended with a song by the class in which the "fair sex" did the proposing which was successful in every case and then all marched away together to the strains of the wedding march.

The R. C. O. A. Entertainment

Miss Gay Zenola Maclaren appears as the next attraction in the R.C.O.A. entertainment course on next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, in the town hall. The public is certainly booked for a treat in the entertainment line, as Miss Maclaren is in a class by herself as a reader and impersonator. The easy manner in which she produces whole plays by herself, and her genial personality has made her famous all over the country.

Admission tickets may be secured from the members of the R.C.O.A. for 50 cents.

Organ Service

The third organ service was given in the Free church last Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Professor Joseph N. Ashton, organist at the First Parish church (Unitarian), Brookline, and there was a very large attendance. Prof. Ashton, who instituted the Phillips Academy recitals when musical director a number of years ago, has not been heard at the organ recently, but his fine playing last Sunday afternoon occasioned the wish of many present that he might be heard oftener. He gave a very finished performance and the organ was never heard to better advantage. The program was particularly well chosen and he made a wise change in using Rheinberger's "Vision" for the closing number. The whole of the program was particularly enjoyable and it would be a difficult matter to name the selection which was the most pleasing, as the service was of unusual merit. Special mention, however, should be made of his skillful rendering of Whiting's Andante con moto.

The program was as follows:

Vision	Rheinberger
Elevation	Marchot
Allegro con moto	Whiting
Scottish Eclogue	Salome
Romanza	Rheinberger
(From eleventh Sonata)
Pastorale	Foote
Tone Sketch, "Simeon in the Temple with the Holy Child"	Malling

CHANTANT AT ABBOT ACADEMY

The seats at the tea-tables in Davis Hall were more than filled Wednesday afternoon at the charming the chantant given by the French department in aid of the wounded soldiers in Paris. A pleasant, sociable atmosphere prevailed, the gay costumes of the French peasant maidens with their high white caps added to the festive feeling, and that the cause was most popular was evidenced by the busy buying of flags and the spirit shown when the Marseillaise was sung.

The entertainment arranged by Miss Sherman and Mlle. de la Breque, given before the tea and chocolate were served, was a varied and interesting one. There were a number of chorus songs and dances, a violin solo, some French recitations and songs and a very pretty presentation of the last act of "The Blue Bird". The accent and the acting of all was good, but perhaps special enthusiasm was shown by the audience for the interpretation of Tytyl by Miss Dorothy Johnson. The program was as follows:

Ma Normandie	Par le Choeur
Berceuse de Jocelyn—La Cinqcentaine	Par Mlle. Gertrude Goss, violoniste
La France Immortelle—Declaration	Par Mlle. Marion Selden
Danse des Vendanges	Par le de partement Francis
Au Clair de la Lune [Moderne]	Par Mlle. Elizabeth Woods

Notice

Owing to the vacation in the schools this week the meeting of the Andover Mother's Club will be held Wednesday, March 8, at 3.15 o'clock at the Samuel Jackson School. It will be a "unique" meeting. The roll will be called when each member is expected with a favorite recipe or household hint. After the social-hour during which unique refreshments will be served a 10 cent Mystery Package Sale will take place. Members are kindly requested to contribute an article securely wrapped to the Mystery Sale, also to come provided with pencil and paper to copy the recipes. Suggestions for packages for sale will be such articles as china, bric-a-brac, household effects, etc. of which we have grown tired, still of use and interest to others. Members are urged to attend and respond to the roll-call. Guests are cordially invited.

PIGS IS PIGS

This statement was written some years ago by a very clever author who wove an interesting story around it. The general public has been led to believe that the statement is true, but almost entirely confined in its application to the raising of pigs in the great agricultural section of the country. Apparently you do not have to go very far from Andover to prove this statement, judged by the story told in one of the Lowell papers, of the auction held at Hood Farm last week where over $6,000 worth of highbred Berkshire swine were sold to some of the most exacting stock-raisers in the United States. To quote from the "Courier Citizen": "briefly, let some of the following points be considered and then we may well ponder whether the raising of worth-while stock, whether it be pigs or porcupines, is still worth thinking about for New England."

"Three-fourths of the stock was from the Hood herd, and the balance was from Overlook Orchards in Littleton, a farm owned by Harry W. Knights, who has been breeding for three years, but who was now ready to market his surplus stock at auction sale. His herd is headed by three well-known boars: Canadian Premier, a son of the 1914 grand champion boar; Locklook, a son of Locksley L.; and Overlook Boy, a son of Rival's Majestic Boy, long at the head of the famous Tannebaum herd in Ohio."

"As for the Hood Farm herd, one ought not to be expected to speak of it in detail around here, after its winnings of the past year. It cleaned up pretty nearly everything in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, and Tennessee, taking nine grand championship prizes, 15 champions, 58 firsts, 31 seconds, and 18 thirds."

"These ribbons were exhibited yesterday at the sale, and they literally occupied yards of cloth hung up in the swineherd barn where the bidding occurred."

"This room would have puzzled a sporting man had he entered it before the selling began. In the center was a sawdust ring. Around the sides, on an elevated platform, were seats for the spectators. It looked like a layout for a good bout. And there was some good sparring for pigs before the day was done, as it was."

"Slush, rain and miles from a railroad station did not keep the big breeders of the country away from this sale. They had gathered to see a cholera-proof herd, thanks to modern serum; to view a champion weighing nearly 1000 pounds; a boar weighing 507 at a year old; to swap stories about their own herds."

Some of the big sales are of particular interest.

A. H. Tyron from Cleveland, Ohio, paid $355.00 for "Successor's Duke 10th", a boar.

Frank Dykes from Montclair, N. J., paid a total of $1190 for his day's purchases.

J. H. O'Brien of Walpole, N. H., paid a total of $1195 for his purchases. Col. William A. Gaston of Barre, Mass., paid $275 for his purchases.

Flax-Growing a Failure

Flax-growing has not proved successful in the United States, although about $3,000,000 of flax fiber and more than $20,000,000 of linen goods are imported yearly. Failure of the European supply suggests a new attempt, and a Farmer's Bulletin reports that the fiber flax from Puget sound compares favorably with the famous product of Courtrai, Belgium, and that Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan also yield good fiber. As preparation of the fiber requires technical knowledge and skill, co-operative associations for securing expert aid are proposed.

PUNCHARD ALUMNI ASSN.

Annual Meeting and Reunion Tuesday Evening in A.O.U.W. Hall, Supper and Entertainment

The annual meeting of the Punchard Alumni association will be held in the A. O. U. W. hall, Barnard block on Tuesday evening, March 7. Supper will be served by Caterer T. E. Rhodes at 6.30 p. m. Following the repast there will be the business meeting, and an entertainment program consisting of music and readings. The Adelphi orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

The annual dues of one dollar are now payable and will entitle the alumni of the school to membership in the society and a ticket to the annual meeting. Husbands and wives of alumni are eligible to associate membership, the annual dues being one dollar.

Associate members enjoy the same privileges as regular members with the exception of voting and the holding of office.

All graduates of the school are urged to join the association this year, and are asked to remit their annual dues to the treasurer, Fred E. Cheever at the earliest possible date, so that the necessary arrangements can be made for the supper.

Christ Church Notes

The season of Lent will begin on Ash Wednesday, March 8. The rector calls the attention of the readers of this notice to the services on that day. Every Wednesday in Lent there will be the children's service at 4 p. m., and the evening service at 7.45 p. m. The Lenten choir will sing at these evening services.

The mission study work of the Woman's Guild will begin on Thursday at the 2.30 p. m. meeting. The rector will talk on "The Bible and Missions."

Recital in Chapel

The fourth in the series of Wagner recitals was given in the Phillips Academy chapel Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The program consisted of motifs from "The Ring of the Nibelungen", and was as follows: "The Entrance of the Gods into Valhalla" from "Das Rheingold"; Mrs. Paige and Mr. Pfattheicher; the "Fire Music" from "Die Walkure"; Mr. Baker and Mr. Pfattheicher; the "Forest Murmurs" from "Siegfried"; and the funeral music from "Gottterdammerung". Mrs. Paige and Mr. Pfattheicher; and by request "The Siegfried Idyll." This was a very delightful recital, full of beautiful passages and the artistic work of Mrs. Paige, Mr. Pfattheicher and Mr. Baker was enjoyed by a large audience.

The remaining programs will be: "Parsifal", March 8; a pupils' recital, March 15; and compositions for two pianos, March 22.

Good Work for the Canoe Club

Through the efforts of the Andover Canoe Club the Massachusetts Humane Society have furnished several life buoys with ropes attached, which have been placed by the Canoe Club House Committee, in cooperation with our genial Chief of Police, at the following stations:

Haverhill Street Bridge
North Main Street Bridge
Stevens Street Bridge
Essex Street Bridge
Andover Canoe Club House
Central Street Bridge
Andover Street Bridge
Kelson's Boat House
Parker's Boat House

A lifeboat is also maintained at the Andover Canoe Club ready for instant use.

A few more life buoys will be placed later at points where the water is too deep to wade ashore.

GOOD TEMPLARS CONVENTION

Abbott Village lodge held its regular meeting Monday evening, when Chief Templar White opened the meeting one of the busiest weeks in the history of the lodge was started. The greater part of the evening was given over to arranging the weeks' program and making final arrangements for the Merrimack Valley District Lodge meeting at the week-end. In accordance with these arrangements the lodge attended in a body the play presented by Ballardvale lodge in Bradlee hall Wednesday evening. A large delegation made the trip. A very pleasing part of the entertainment was the dancing, between the acts of the St. Clair troupe of Andover, international dancers, assisted by William White, bagpiper. The artists are all members of Abbott Village lodge. It was further decided that the lodge shall attend the temperance rally in the town hall Sunday evening. All good templars are asked to assemble at the town hall at 7.30 and enter in a body.

A splendid day for Good Templary is assured when the District Lodge meets in Abbott Village hall Saturday. Besides the delegates a large number of State officers of the Grand Lodge will be present. In the afternoon pride of Andover Juveniles will entertain. For this the children devoted their time to rehearsing at their regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Abbott Village Lodge will serve supper to the visiting delegates. In the evening a public meeting will be held. There will be stirring speeches by the state officers and a splendid program of vocal and instrumental music. Several local dancers of known ability will also contribute to the program. All interested in temperance are urged to attend; good templars are asked to bring their friends with them.

One week from Monday, March 13, this lodge will pay a fraternal visit to Ballardvale Lodge.

Phillips Academy Notes

Gray Knapp, secretary of Dartmouth College gave an extremely interesting talk Tuesday night before an enthusiastic audience of about thirty students and members of the faculty. His address was informal and was illustrated with a large number of remarkably beautiful views of Hanover and of the college buildings, athletic fields, the ski-jumping and of the various phases of college activities. He laid especial emphasis upon the winter sports, showing many pictures of the carnival and of the camps kept by the Outing Club, in the White Mountains. After the lecture, all of the men who had been able to obtain excuses, went over to Peabody House, where light refreshments were served in the reading room. The smoker broke up at about nine o'clock.

A number of members of the Andover Choral Society, accompanied by Mr. Pfattheicher, will sing at the jail service at Lawrence Sunday morning.

Mr. Stackpole spoke last Sunday evening at Cushing Academy, Ashburnham.

Next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock an indoor track meet will be held for fellows under the age of sixteen years.

Probably the wrestling meet between Andover and Yale 2nd last Saturday was the most interesting so far this season. By far the most exciting match was in the heavyweight class when Capt. Russell of Andover threw Galt of Yale in 8 minutes and 53 seconds. Galt was about sixty pounds heavier than his adversary, but was unable to make any headway. "Gus" Avery, P. A. '15, Thomas, P. A. '15, and "Tommy" Lee, P. A. '14, came up with the Yale team.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology swimming team defeated the Andover team by the score of 36 to 17, last Saturday in the Academy swimming pool. In most of the race events the M. I. T. team seemed to have the advantage, but in the dive and plunge Andover showed good form. J. Meagher again established a new Academy plunge record by plunging 68 feet, breaking his last week's record by four feet. Crane and Kingsbury, the Andover divers, made a creditable performance winning first and second respectively in the event. Although the score would indicate a one-sided affair and the times were not extraordinary, many of the events were closely contested.

The preacher at both services next Sunday will be Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, D.D., recently of Montclair, N. J., and now professor in Union Theological Seminary, New York. Dr. Fosdick, although still a young man, is one of the best-known college preachers in the country. He is a frequent speaker at Northfield. This will be his first visit to Phillips Academy.

Dancing Party

An enjoyable private dancing party was held in A. O. U. W. hall on last Friday evening with about twenty couples present. The Columbia orchestra of Lawrence furnished excellent music for dancing, from 8 until 12 o'clock. The hall was tastefully decorated with red and green lights and produced a pretty effect. All present spent a most enjoyable evening.

The Young Patient

A clever nurse has an original way of inducing a young patient to take a certain amount of milk the doctor ordered. The child rebelled against it, until she poured it over freshly popped corn, and, after allowing it to stand for a short time, strained it carefully and carried it to the patient. After he was persuaded to "just taste it," and did so with a contemptuous sip, he finished it with a relish, and there was no more trouble as long as the milk diet lasted.

Essex County Farmers' Day

The third Essex County Farmers' Day and the first Poultry Extension School at the Essex County Agricultural School, will be held at Hathorne (Danvers) beginning Wednesday, March 8. The poultry school will be in session Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 6, 7 and 8.

The programs for each day have been carefully arranged and the speakers at each session are men well known in their respective lines. Those interested in the event should send for full descriptive program to Fred A. Smith, Director, Hathorne.

The Agricultural School is in the Hathorne section of Danvers. The grounds may be reached by taking the main line of electric between Salem and Lawrence. Hathorne station, on the Lawrence branch of the Boston & Maine, is four minutes distant.

NEWS OF ANDOVER SUBURBS

ABBOTT VILLAGE

James Low of Beverly is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Bailey, on North Main street.

Mrs. John Elder of Stevens street is confined to her home by a severe attack of pneumonia.

William Toye of Brighton visited at the home of Thomas Dudley on Essex street last week.

Robert Lowe of Beverly is spending the week with his aunt, Mrs. Robert Kydd on Shawheen road.

John McDermitt, who has been ill for a long time, was taken to the South Lawrence Tuberculosis Hospital last Saturday.

Alex Ness, John Lynch and Frank Nicoll, three young men of the village, spent the week-end renewing acquaintances in Lynn and Beverly.

Mrs. James Fraser, who has been under doctors care for some time at her home on Shawheen road, was removed to the Massachusetts General Hospital this week.

James Ramsey, who lost three fingers while at work in the Tye Rubber factory last week, has returned to his home on Brechin Terrace from the Lawrence General Hospital.

Next Friday evening, March 10, the Friendship club of the local Good Templars will conduct a dance in the village hall. Arrangements are made for a very pleasant evening. Dancing will be from 8 to 12 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the Andover United Football club will be held in the village hall Monday evening. It is again time for the soccer enthusiasts to get together and prepare for the first game which is not far off now. After the big league meeting held this week there is lots of interesting matter for the club members to discuss.

Birthday Parties

A very pleasant afternoon was spent last Saturday at the home of Mrs. Robert Kydd on Shawheen road, the occasion being the seventh birthday of Annetta Anderson, granddaughter of Mrs. Kydd. A number of Miss Anderson's young friends were present and under the guidance of Mrs. Harry Gouck, Mrs. Annie Scannell, Mrs. John Bailey and Mrs. David Anderson the children played games and sang many songs. Refreshments were served. Besides the older people the following children were present: Helen Scannell, Helen Brown, Violet Low, Gertrude Scannell, Jennie Scannell, Elizabeth Low, Charlotte Ross, Mary Lynch, Nellie Anderson, Jessie Bailey, Evelyn and Margaret Ross.

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermitt on Red Spring road in honor of their daughter Alice, on Tuesday evening the 29th, Miss McDermitt being one of the few whose chance to celebrate comes but once in four years.

A very pleasant part of the entertainment of the guests was the piano selections by Misses Mary McDermitt, Marion Manning, Myrtis McDermitt and May Hickey. John Sullivan also contributed several solos through the evening. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Helen Keene and Miss Olive Wilkinson of Ballardvale.

Miss McDermitt received many useful as well as beautiful presents. Those present were: Misses Elizabeth Bruce, Lillian Wilkinson, Olive Wilkinson, Helen Keene, Marion Manning, Mary Hickey, Myrtis McDermitt, and Mary McDermitt; Wendell Kydd, Robert Christie, Robert Deyermont, James Coates, Alexander Forsyth, Joseph Stewart, John Sullivan, David Gordon, Alfred Nicoll and William McDermitt.

Means Prize Contest

Last Saturday evening the forty-ninth annual Means Essay Speaking Contest was held in the Phillips Academy chapel before a large audience. As a result of careful training and coaching, by Mr. Stott of the Academy faculty, every man delivered his speech admirably, and made the evening a very pleasant one. Mr. Leonard presided at the contest, introducing the speakers.

During the last intermission the judges conferred notes to decide upon the winners of the prizes. The committee of award was composed of Frank Aydelotte, an instructor in Massachusetts Institution of Technology; Carroll A. Wilson of the law firm of Hurlbutt, Jones & Cabot, Boston; and Edwin G. Eklund of the North Bennett Street Industrial School, Boston. When they had decided upon the winners they came back into the chapel and Mr. Aydelotte awarded the prizes as follows: Richard Horace Bassett, the first prize of twenty dollars; Paul Rice Doolin, the second prize of twelve dollars; Laurence Wellman Beilenson, the third prize of eight dollars.

Those Dear Girls

Edith—I think Jack is horrid. I asked him if he had to choose between me and a million which he would take, and he said the million.

WEST PARISH

Miss Ruth Abbott is spending a few days with her brother, Gayton Abbott, in Somerville.

Rev. Newman Matthews pastor of the West church is confined to his home with severe attack of grippe.

Prof. William H. Ryder occupied the pulpit of the West church last Sunday, owing to the illness of the pastor.

George Averill and George M. Carter of the Parish attended the Farmers' Institute held in Danvers February 29.

Miss Helen Hardy of the River road is spending the week in Meredith, N. H. Miss Arline Powers, teacher in the North school, is spending her vacation in Leominster.

Mr. and Mrs. Shires are rejoicing over the arrival of twins, a boy and girl, born March 1. Mr. Shires recently bought the LeValle home on North street, and Mrs. Shires is a granddaughter of Mrs. Warren Bailey of the River road.

Leslie Ray, a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Herbert Towne, a student at the Agricultural College in Danvers, both of Topsfield, spent the week-end with their aunt, Mrs. George Averill.

Mrs. Nicholas of Chandler road, who has been seriously ill in the Lawrence General Hospital, following an operation three months ago, has so far recovered as to be able to be removed to her sister's home in Lawrence.

Grange News

The Essex County Pomona Grange met in the Andover Grange hall Thursday, March 2. After the meeting was called to order, the reports of different committees and officers were read. Suggestions were made for the good of the order and for the rural districts. A brief talk was given by the Worthy Lecturer, Joseph Drummer of Rowley, on "Old Men Dream Dreams and Young Men See Visions." Dinner was announced at 12.30. In spite of the stormy weather about 125 sat down to dinner. At 1.30 the meeting was again called to order and James Poor of North Andover talked on "Has the Present School System Educated away from the Farm and Work?" Music was furnished by the Andover Grange quartet, and a piano duet was contributed by Mrs. Herbert Merrick and Miss Florence Pike. There was a lively discussion on the subject, "Is a Heavy Armament the best Preparation for Peace?" Mr. Webster of Haverhill, Mr. Emerson of Methuen, and Mr. Poor of North Andover spoke on this. Another subject discussed was "Could you advise a boy to take up Farming as a Life Business?" The Lecturer of the Pomona Grange spoke on the above subject. Mr. Mann of Methuen spoke on this subject: "Is an organization of the farmers of the town to standardize their product by more careful packing and up-to-date salesmen practical?" Mr. Dummer, Lecturer of the Pomona Grange, spoke on "What is the Greatest Drawback to Progressive Agriculture Today?"

Readings were given by Mrs. Hubert Mayo and the Lecturer of Andover Grange, Miss Morgan. The dinner was in charge of the Ladies' Club of the Andover Grange, and those in charge of the tables were Mrs. E. W. Boutwell, Mrs. Philip Moar, Mrs. Lundgren, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Burt, Miss Lottie Hill, Mrs. Emerson, Mrs. Dane, Mrs. Pinkham, Mrs. Playdon, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Swanton, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. McGovern, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. S. H. Bailey and Mrs. Asa Gould.

Farmers' Week

Many of our readers will be able to go to Amherst for Farmers' Week at the Mass. Agr. College, March 13 to 17, for only a part of the program. For the benefit of these, the College has compiled a list of subjects and the days upon which they will be taken up. From this list the dairyman, the fruit grower, the poultryman and others will be able to plan their week to the very best advantage. We are glad to print this list in the hope that it may be of service to those who plan to go to Amherst for this big event. The different subjects are scheduled as follows:—(Do not miss the thing in which you are most interested)—Soils and Fertilizers; Monday afternoon. Farm Drainage and Tile Making; Wednesday. Concrete on the Farm; Wednesday. Farm Management and Accounts; Thursday. Potatoes; Tuesday, all day. Irrigation; Friday forenoon. Water Supply and Sanitation for the Farm; Thursday afternoon. ## PHENOMENAL

The rise of this organization to a position of supremacy in the Grain, Feed and Poultry Supply Business is admittedly phenomenal, yet in view of the efforts we have made to acquire, and the efficiency we have developed to deserve that supremacy, it would have been more phenomenal had the result been otherwise.

Baptist Church Notes

Mrs. J. C. Killian, of Chapel Car "Evangel," gave a most interesting and inspiring address last Sunday morning, telling of the work she and her husband are doing in Kansas, in conjunction with the State missionary officers. The Evangel was the first car sent out: it has been on the road twenty-five years, and is kept looking as good as new. An inspector once asked "what sort of a rattle-trap car" they had, but soon concluded it was a credit to any road. It is a home and a chapel under one roof; its audience room seats 80 people, and has been known to hold 120. The seven cars are sent out by the American Baptist Publication Society, which is also a missionary society. It sent out colporters on foot in 1840, but the work has increased and now these traverse the west in 58 wagons, 16 autos, and in cruisers on several waterways. Two hundred and five churches have been organized by the chapel car work, sixty-two of them by the Evangel workers. Running along either side of this car is a verse of Scripture, John 3:16 and Matt. 28:19. "Every spot in the car is sacred to the memory of some one who has found Christ."

The car goes to places where there are weak churches or none, once to a place of 15,000 inhabitants, where there was no evangelical church. Sometimes Rev. Killian helps build a church. Much work is done in cities where there are railroad shops; in one of these, short meetings were held at noon, afternoon and evening, and then one of the night workers asked to have a midnight service, as his shift could not go to the others.

Mrs. Killian is a fluent speaker, and told so many helpful things about the work that many would gladly have listened longer. One person remembered especially several instances of how people were led to come to their services and to Christ. It was shown that the happiest days of one's life are those spent in helping others, so that, to use Mrs. Killian's phrase, "they hand themselves over to the Master."

At the Sunday School hour, the classes for men and boys remained in the church, while all the women and older girls went upstairs, where Mrs. Killian spoke to all in intimate, heart to heart fashion, from the text, "Is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with the child?" Many Christians present expressed a strong desire for a more consecrated life.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the Trustees of the Memorial Hall Library.

GENTLEMEN: I herewith submit the report of the library for the twelve months ending December 31, 1915.

The circulation for the year is 41637 books as compared with 41130 for 1914. This increase is due to larger use of the main library since the number of volumes issued at Ballardvale is less than last year, 7582 instead of 7992. This decrease was to be expected, since the use of a branch when first opened is almost always larger than the normal level which it afterwards reaches. The present circulation is good in proportion to the population of Andover, 5.7 books per capita.

Two important changes were made in the Memorial Hall during the year; the addition of a fire escape as required by the state law, and the equipping of the building with steam heat. To have the furnaces that had been in commission for over forty years removed and an adequate heating plant installed was greatly appreciated by all who use the library. The change from a temperature at best around 60 and often lower, where no proper ventilation was possible, to conditions where plenty of fresh air can be supplied and the library still be perfectly comfortable, is an improvement that calls forth constant appreciative comment and is doubtless a factor in the increased use. Not one criticism of the ventilation has been made this season and people who complained bitterly in the past, now occupy the reading-room in comfort. The only regret is that the plant should be installed in a place so plainly inadequate for the needs of the library, but the new boiler is capable of heating a larger building when we have the addition so much needed.

The reference use of the library continues large, particularly by the schools. Did space only permit, we should duplicate many books especially wanted by the children, but we have no place to put them. Students are naturally exasperated when we can provide only one or two copies of a book for the use of a class of thirty. Other libraries with adequate accommodations solve this problem satisfactorily by purchasing "school duplicates", but as has been repeatedly said, the Andover library can never do what it has in its power to do, or be what it might be to the schools and to the town, until it has more room.

The four travelling libraries purchased last year for the outlying schools have been appreciated. The school department has attended to their transportation and assumed responsibility for their safety. They were composed of one hundred different books proved by experience to be liked and enjoyed by children.

An unusually large number of books were withdrawn during the year because they had been in houses where scarlet fever or diphtheria developed. Such cases are reported to us at once by the Board of Health, and it is our invariable custom to destroy any volume that has been exposed to possible contagion, even when, as occurred this year in several instances, the books were perfectly new. The library prefers to bear this loss in order that parents may be confident that all proper precautions are taken.

We have received from different people gifts of books and pamphlets. From the estate of George H. Torr came a number of books which were of use both in the main library and at Ballardvale. There was also an unusual and valuable portrait engraving of Lincoln. Mr. George Ripley has presented both library and branch with a quantity of helpful and inspiring literature. Another interesting addition is a large assortment of books and pamphlets relating to the European war, presented by Sir Gilbert Parker.

In regard to the immense amount of war literature flooding the market, our purchases have been most conservative. The few books we have bought are those possessing a certain value of human interest, such as Kreisler's "Four weeks in the trenches," Aldrich's "Hill-top on the Marne," or Wister's wonderful "Pentecost of Calamity." Believing that our readers obtain from daily papers and current magazines all they want of war conditions, we have avoided fiction, particularly all juvenile fiction, based on the present conflict. There is not the usual demand for stories of exciting adventure; actual life is affording sufficient variety for all but the most hardened novel-readers. Instead, people are asking for quiet stories, of home life or character study rather than fiction. There is a remarkable demand for the older English novelists, Trollope, Thackeray, Brontë, and Dickens. People are turning to them as a relief from the strain of world war.

The branch at Ballardvale shows enthusiastic use. It has now 1011 volumes belonging to it. Much of its success is due to its librarian, Miss Byington, whose personal interest and knowledge of the village form a big factor in its popularity. While the percentage of fiction circulated is large, it need not be deplored, for part of the branch's reason for existence is to bring to the children and the older people, clean, wholesome, recreative reading. Miss Byington reports that additional shelving will be required this coming spring. Fortunately there is ample wall space. Ballardvale also wishes to have the immediate approach to the building made more attractive, levelled and planted with grass. The estimate obtained shows that needed loam, work, etc. will cost about seventy-five dollars. Since the presence of the library in the building is the cause of the village interest to have the vicinity improved, it is hoped that the change may be made possible at the coming town meeting.

Our own cramped quarters have forced us this year to request the discontinuance of such government publications as the Congressional Record, Patent Office gazette, and other valuable documents which have been sent us free for years. Not until the town, or somebody who cares to do something for the town, makes possible the addition needed to the present building, will the Memorial Hall Library be able to offer the very high type of library service that might be enjoyed by the community of Andover.

Respectfully submitted,

EDNA A. BROWN
Librarian

be over in record time. The school committee is unanimous in favor of a new building and has the support of the finance committee which has recommended the expenditure. A special committee has been at work for several weeks and their report is contained in the article which appears in the warrant.

It is quite possible that there will be considerable discussion in regard to road work, as there are a few articles calling for macadam extension. The Board of Public Works, through its chairman, has announced that it has arranged a policy in regard to this work and undoubtedly it will oppose any special articles calling for extra appropriations.

A short biographical sketch of candidates who will have opposition on the ballot follows:

Charles B. Baldwin, who is a candidate for the Board of Public Works, is one of Andover's well-known residents. He has never been a candidate for public office before but has become widely known through his work at the Free church, particularly as president of the Men's Club. He holds a very important position with the United Shoe Machinery Company, being the manager of the Transportation Department, with an office in Boston. He has traveled extensively throughout this country, and with ideas gained in these travels should be a valuable member of the Board.

Mr. Baldwin is a director of the National Industrial Traffic League, and is also a member of the Advisory Board of the American Commerce Association. He is at present secretary of the town Lighting Committee. He is married and has two children. His home is on Summer street.

Barnett Rogers, a member of the Board of Public Works who seeks reelection, is one of the original members of the Board, having held office for three years. He is also chairman of the Lighting Committee of Andover. He was born in Scotland but came to Andover when a young man and has always resided here. He is in the real estate business with John C. Angus.

Edward W. Boutwell is a resident of the West district and is in the contest for membership on the Board of Public Works. He is well known in town through his active participation in politics, having been at various times the Progressive candidate for Representative. He is a farmer, a past master of the Andover Grange, and a graduate of Phillips Academy.

Samuel P. Hulme is a candidate for the Board of Public Works. He is in the real estate business with an office in the Carter Block. He has never before been a candidate for office in Andover. He is a graduate of Pynchard School and has lived here all his life.

Nesbit G. Gleason, one of the present members of the board of auditors, is again a candidate for the office. He has been on the board for fourteen years and during that time he has seen many changes and improvements in handling the bills of the town. He is at present representing Andover in the House of Representatives, this being his first term. He is clerk of the Committee on Municipal Finance.

David R. Lawson, a present member of the board of auditors, is an Andover boy. He attended the public schools and graduated from Pynchard High School. Following his graduation he entered the employ of the American Woolen Company in its Boston office and by strict application to duty he has steadily advanced until now he is paymaster at the Wood mill in Lawrence. He was elected to the auditing committee last year and has become an efficient and conscientious worker for the town's welfare.

Walter H. Coleman is a member of the board of auditors seeking reelection. He has served for eleven years and has made a careful study of the work during his tenure of office. He is head of the firm of Walter H. Coleman & Co., garage proprietors on Park street. For a number of years Mr. Coleman was manager of the Andover Electric Light Company, and has a large circle of friends in town.

Edmond E. Hammond is a new-comer in the political life of the town. He is a candidate for auditor. Mr. Hammond is a native of Ballardvale but for the past few years has resided on Summer street. He is a graduate of Pynchard and is now employed by Jackson & Curtis, brokers, in Boston.

John S. Robertson, a former auditor, is again a candidate for the office. He is an accountant by profession, being on the staff of Armour & Co., with an office in Lowell. He is thoroughly acquainted with work of this kind and if elected should make an excellent official. He resided for many years on Shawshen road but now lives on Avon street.

Walter S. Donald is a candidate for re-election to the Board of Selectmen and Assessors. He has been a town official for eleven years and his district as an assessor includes Frye Village and West Parish. He is a native of Frye Village and is a son of the late William C. Donald, founder of the ink-making industry there. He was a candidate for a number of years before he finally won the election over Samuel H. Boutwell. His term, if elected, will be for three years.

Louis G. Buck is a resident of Ballardvale, at present employed in the factory of the Tye Rubber Company. It is his first appearance in the political field and he is putting up a strong campaign for his election to the Board of Selectmen and Assessors.

Frederic G. Moore is again a candidate for the School Committee. He has been on the board for the last three years and is at present chairman of the finance and advisory committee, and is also on the committee on books and supplies, repairs, Cornell scholarships at Abbot Academy, and the Stowe, John Dove and Samuel C. Jackson district committee. He is secretary of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company, and is the organizer and choir-master at the South church.

Philip F. Ripley is a candidate for re-election to the School Committee. He has been on the board for three years and is chairman of the committee on Cornell scholarships at Phillips Academy, and is on the committee for teachers, and chairman of the district committee for the Indian Ridge, Bradley, and Richardson schools. He is a chemist and is with the Wood mill in Lawrence.

Thomas E. Rhodes has been on the School Committee for the past six years, and during that time has taken an active part in the discussion of school affairs. He is at present chairman of the district committee for the West Centre, North, Bailey and Osgood schools and is on the committee for the Cornell scholarships at Phillips Academy. Mr. Rhodes is chairman of the Board of Public Works, and is engaged in the catering business.

Miss Mary Byers Smith is a candidate for the School Committee. She is the daughter of the late Joseph W. Smith, for many years a resident of Frye Village, and she now lives with her mother on Central street. She is a graduate of Abbot Academy and Smith College and since finishing her college course has been interested in social settlement work. This is her first attempt to hold political office in Andover.

From the Electric Field

Electric heaters are used to keep frost from show windows.

Vacuum cleaners are now used in large factory buildings, as well as the home.

A large electric range has been installed at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass. A wide variety of small ear phones, for the deaf, have been recently placed on the market.

It is estimated that there are 2,000, 000 horsepower of undeveloped water-power in Vermont.

A new system of "flood" lighting is now used to illuminate large and important buildings at night.

A toy electric range, which can actually be used for cooking without danger of fire is the latest for little women.

A small X-ray machine is now used in dentistry for locating root canals, erupted and impacted teeth, etc.

A number of electric heaters have been developed for private garages to keep automobiles from freezing up.

The General Electric Company has perfected new and more powerful gas-electric locomotives for the "Dan Patch" line.

Electricity has been a big factor in cheapening water supplies for towns, and cities, and its employment is rapidly growing.

STATE AND NATION

CONGRESS WILL BACK WILSON

Washington, March 2.—Congress will put itself on record regarding the administration's course toward Germany. Democrat leaders have ratified the president's suggestion that a vote be taken and taken soon.

House leaders drafted for consideration of the house a measure proposing that congress express its confidence in the president's handling of the armed merchantmen controversy and recognize that it is not a matter of legislative but of executive concern.

Leaders discussed with the president the means of bringing about the vote and the exact question first to be determined by such a vote. Since the chief purpose of the president is to demonstrate to Germany that the country supports his attitude, the house and senate leaders, following a long discussion with the president at the White House, went back to the Capitol to frame an issue that will bring out that point clearly.

Some of the leaders, even while setting to work to bring about the vote desired by the president, indicated their own disbelief in the willingness of congress—the house at least—to support the president's course whole-heartedly. Kitchen, house floor leader, referred ironically to the president's power over congress, but intimated his own belief that the majority of the house favors warning Americans to stay off armed merchantmen. That has been Speaker Clark's contention also, though he withheld comment.

However, the administration is known to have sounded both branches thoroughly prior to the president's making his announcement in his letter to Representative Pou that he wanted the members to stand up and be counted.

The action of the president in taking the matter up with Pou rather than with other house leaders was expected from information concerning Pou's activities last week.

It became known that when the lid threatened to blow off in congress last week Pou made a survey of the situation. Immediately afterward he wrote a letter to the president declaring it to be his belief that a resolution to warn Americans off armed ships would be overwhelmingly defeated.

Pou told the president that the only way a warning resolution could get on the floor would be by special rule, and that it would not have a chance to get out, because practically all of the rules committee members favored the president's position. It was a surprise to the committee, therefore, when the president announced that he wished the committee to take advantage of its powers and get the resolution out for a vote.

The administration is not going into the possibility of a strenuous fight on the floor without picking its own position. It is known that the president's forces in congress and certain of the cabinet members have been working hard since last Friday whipping into line the votes necessary to bring about the desired support of the president's course.

Brockton's Big Shoe Shipments

Brockton, Mass., Feb. 28.—A gain of nearly 14,000 cases for the month of February over the corresponding time in 1914 is the record made in shoe shipments for the last four weeks. During the month there were shipped 64,049 cases, or nearly 2,000,000 pairs, of Brockton-made shoes.

Death List of 155

London, Feb. 29.—The owners of the Peninsula and Oriental line steamer Maloja, which struck a mine and sank off Dover, announced that the total number of persons saved in the disaster was 301. The missing comprise forty-nine passengers and 106 of the crew, a total of 155.

Family of Seven Burn to Death

Tuloga, Okla., March 1.—The bodies of seven persons were found in the ruins of a farmhouse which burned near here. The dead are M. Creed, his wife and three children and his two brothers.

DEAD ENGINEER IS BLAMED

Failure to Heed Signals Caused Wreck on New Haven Road

New Haven, March 1.—Failure of William R. Curtis, engineer of extra passenger train No. 5, to observe signals set against him and to obey them was responsible for the running of the train into the rear of the Connecticut river special on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad at Milford on Feb. 22, according to the finding of Coroner Mix. In the wreck ten persons lost their lives and more than two score were injured.

The finding is made on the death of Miss Susan Hyland of this city, who was crushed to death in the wreck. The other deaths included those of Engineer Curtis and the fireman of the extra and a former employee of the company who was riding on that engine.

GERMANS LET UP IN ATTACK

London, March 2.—The Germans in the battle-scarred region of Verdun continue their bombardments west of the Meuse in the region between Malancourt and Forges, across the river eastward about Vaux and Dambloup, and against French trenches in the Woivre region southeast of Verdun.

Their big offensive, however, so far as infantry attacks are concerned, has ceased, at least for the moment. Whether it will begin again or whether the Germans will rest content with the points of vantage they have gained is not indicated in the official reports of either Berlin or Paris.

Unofficial advices from Berlin have stated that the German plan of campaign has been primarily based on the bombardment of sectors they desire to attain, and it is possible that they may now be drawing up their big guns to captured positions with the object of shelling points nearest their objective—Verdun.

East of Verdun, around Pont-a-Mousson, the French have bombarded German positions heavily in Le Pretre wood and near Thalcourt. Artillery duels have been in progress in Alsace.

There has been no resumption of German attacks against the French in the Champagne region.

While nothing of especial importance has taken place along the British part of the line, the effect of the German offensive in the Verdun region is shown in the strengthening of their front in order to release the French for the reinforcement of the army opposing the German advance.

Unofficial advices had placed the extreme southern end of the British line in the region of Lens. The latest British official communication reports the British fighting north of the Somme, which would show that they have stretched their front between thirty and forty miles down to the region of Amiens.

Little is going on in Russia except isolated bombardments and infantry attacks and air raids.

On the Italian front the Italians have occupied and consolidated an Austrian position on Mount Marmolada. Elsewhere in this region only artillery bombardments have prevailed.

On the Asiatic battlefields the Russians continue their pursuit of the Turks in the Caucasus region and in Persia.

A German seaplane dropped bombs on the southeast coast of England. No military damage was done.

PORTUGAL IS THREATENED

Germany Demands Immediate Restoration of Seized Ships

London, March 2.—A dispatch from Madrid states that Germany has sent an ultimatum to Portugal demanding the restoration of German merchant ships, seized by the Portuguese government, within forty-eight hours. Otherwise the German minister will be recalled.

Preparations are already under way to facilitate the exodus of Germans from Portugal.

HUNDREDS ARE DROWNED

Cause of Loss of Troopship La Provence Not Definitely Known

Paris, March 1.—The French auxiliary cruiser La Provence, formerly in service as a transatlantic liner, was sunk in the Mediterranean, it was officially announced here.

The ministry of marine stated that there were about 1800 persons aboard and that approximately 870 had been saved. Ten boats are now at the scene of the disaster, continuing the search for other survivors.

Dispatches did not state whether La Provence was sunk by a submarine or a mine, or was the victim of an internal explosion.

In all probability La Provence was carrying troops either from or to Saloniki.

Asks $280,000 For Loss of Eye

Dedham, Mass., Feb. 29.—Eight distinct actions are brought by Mrs. Frances A. Kerr of Brookline in the Norfolk court. She seeks to recover $280,000 for the loss of an eye by a skyrocket in Brookline.

Counterfeiting Outfit Seized

Providence, Feb. 28.—Federal officers went to the plant of the Eagle Stamping company and seized a complete counterfeiting outfit and arrested Kiker Dederian.

Woman 107 Years Young

Newburyport, Mass., March 2.—Still young and happy, she says, Mrs. Abigail Morrill celebrated her 107th birthday. Mrs. Morrill, with the aid of glasses, reads the newspapers and the Bible. Her hearing is impaired slightly. Her mind is clear and she has a splendid memory.

Home Rule Further Delayed

London, March 2.—The operation of Ireland's home rule act, which was passed shortly before the outbreak of the war, has now been postponed for the third time by an order-in-council for six months, unless the war is ended before that time.

GENERAL NEWS EVENTS

William R. Brackett, a railroad official widely known in New England a generation ago, died at Plymouth, N. H.

The body of the stranger found frozen to death at Taunton, Mass., was identified as that of Richard Rhodes of Pawtucket, R. I.

Thomas Lewis, a real estate owner of Fall River, Mass., who had been in poor health, escaped from an attendant and fell or jumped from a third story window to the street and was killed.

The Daniel Russell boiler works at Boston were destroyed by fire. Thousands of dollars' worth of valuable wood patterns were destroyed.

The number of immigrants landed at Boston in the month of February exceeded the February average for the past ten years.

Former Mayor Oliver B. Munroe of Melrose, Mass., 59, for many years a financial and textile editor, died suddenly of asthmatic trouble.

The Traders' National bank, Lowell, Mass., which went bankrupt two years ago, announced a dividend of 10 percent for depositors. The dividend will amount to $281,000.

Rose King, member of a Manchester, N. H., stock company, inflicted a wound in the breast of Leo Kennedy, when she misadvised a lunge with a bayonet and stabbed him during a performance.

Seventeen patients in the Emily Balch hospital, Plymouth, N. H., were removed without injury during a $15,000 fire which destroyed the institution.

Richard Park, 50, and his sister, Mrs. Eliza Flynn, 45, were accidentally asphyxiated at Worcester, Mass., by illuminating gas.

11:40 Sunday School
3:00 Junior League. This Sunday begins the attendance competition.
6:15 Epworth League. Subject: "Others," as a watchword for Christians. Leader, J. W. Stark.
7:30 Evening Worship. Sermon by the pastor.
7:30 Thursday evening. Entertainment in Bradlee Hall by Crane, Pierce and Sherburn.

Mrs. Leon E. Knox of Wollaston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stott of River street.

The last of the special meetings of this week at the Methodist church will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. In place of Mr. Morgan, who was announced to preach, Professor Heber Harper of Boston University will preach. He is a graduate of Alleghany University and was studying in Berlin when the war started and was driven out of the country. Prof. Parker will speak on "What Is Conversion?" Everyone is invited.

There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Union Congregational Society held in the church vestry on Thursday evening. Moderator Felix G. Haynes presided at the meeting. Reports were given by the treasurer, Bancroft T. Haynes; by Daniel H. Poor for the trustees; by the auditor, Robert Stafford; and by the collector, Stephen T. Byington. The following persons were elected officers for the ensuing term: Moderator, Felix G. Haynes; clerk and treasurer, Bancroft T. Haynes; trustee for three years, Daniel H. Poor; collector, Stephen T. Byington; assistant collector, Robert Stafford; auditor, Robert Stafford; conductor of music, Joseph E. Stott. Votes of thanks were extended to the Ballard Vale Mills Co., Addison P. Wosson, and the Ladies' Aid Society. A vote of thanks was extended to the conductor of music and the choir for their services. A special committee of five was appointed to confer with a committee from the church in regard to the advisability of uniting the church and society. The following persons were appointed: Amos B. Loomer, Joseph Stott, Charles W. Richardson, Herbert Clarke, Arthur Mears.

Special Services

The special meetings at the Methodist church have been well attended and have aroused considerable interest, and a cordial invitation has been extended to attend these meetings.

The preacher at the church last night was a young man of many accomplishments. He was Rev. Elmer A. Leslie of the Medford Hillside Methodist church. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and while studying at Boston University was awarded the scholarship for study abroad, and spent the year at the University of Glasgow. He played on the University of Illinois band for four years and led the music on his cornet last night.

Mr. Leslie has held pastorates in Kittery, Me., and Arlington Heights.

Be up and doing, but be careful what you are up to and who is being done.

Good Templar Entertainment

Bradlee Hall was filled to its utmost capacity on Wednesday evening when Ballardvale lodge, No. 105, presented the three-act comedy, "Out of Town", with the following strong cast of local talent:

Mrs. Jane Huntington Thorndike, Mrs. Millie B. Hammond; Miss Elizabeth Thorndike, Miss Agnes P. Cummings; John Spencer Ellington, Robert O. Williams; Robert Matthew Thorndike, Harry Nason; James the Butler, Harold F. Wells; Mrs. James Ludington Monroe, Miss Clara P. Moody; Miss Esther Monroe, Miss Merle W. Wilkinson; Marie, the young maid, Miss Myrtle Flint.

All of the cast did exceptionally well and words of commendation and praise were heard by everyone present for the clever work. The specialties between the acts consisted of a fine piano duet by Harold Wells and Ruth Greenwood, and the Scottish dances by the well-known St. Clairs, accompanied by William White, bagpipe player. The dancing was unusually good, and added much to the evening's program. All present pronounced it the best entertainment ever given by the local Good Templars.

BOWLING

Ballard Vale Mills defeated the Press Room of the Tyr Rubber Co., on the Ballardvale alleys by 61 pins. Buckley was high bowler with a total of 301. The scores:

Ballard Vale: 437, 449, 425—1311.
Dane 255, Spark 272, Buckley 301, Murphy 243, Colbath 240.
Press Room: 425, 425, 400—1250.
Grealish 219, Eldridge 243, Hyde 269, Skea 234, Carney 285.

Farmer's Week

Farmer's Week has come to be the big round-up meeting of the year in almost every state. Massachusetts is no exception to the rule and the Massachusetts Agricultural College expects a registration of very nearly 2,000 for this big event which is scheduled at Amherst for March 13, 14, 15, 16, and 17. It is impossible for us to print the complete program for there are over 100 speakers and nearly 150 subjects. The work is divided up into sections, each section having its own meeting place and all meeting together for the evening sessions in the auditorium. No matter what your particular interests are, you will be able to find something which will help you, at any hour on any day. Send for a complete program to Wm. D. Hurd, Director Extension Service, M. A. C., Amherst, Mass.

Keeping Posted

Statements which have been published regarding the current ignorance of college students upon important men and events of the day deserve more attention than they are likely to get. They are indications of a condition which ought to be remedied, but whose remedy is not easy. Certain questions were put to students in some of our leading colleges and universities regarding the generals, monarchs, and territorial points of leading magnitude involved in the European war. It would seem as if the average child would be able to make a better showing than these hundreds of students did. Their average percentage of answers was only about 60. There was hardly one of them who reached 90 and the particular instances of their ignorances were amazing.—Fitchburg Sentinel.

SPOKE BEFORE EPWORTH LEAGUE

All who heard Henry Crane at the Methodist church sale in Bradlee Hall last November will want to hear him again next Tuesday night. Under the auspices of the Epworth League he will appear in a program of humorous and classical readings, and solos and catchy skits. He will be accompanied by Mr. Sherburne again, and assisted by another humorist, Clyde Pierce of Boston. Mr. Pierce can imitate every animal that walks on two, three or four legs. He is six feet tall and bears the nickname of "Sunshine". He is a native of Indiana and graduated at DePauw University. Admission to the entertainment is to be 15 cents, payable at the door. A unique method of ticket-sale is planned. Every member of the Sunday School who obtains the names of ten people who will attend, as having promised them only, will be admitted free.

Obituary

MRS. MARY GILLESPIE

A telegram was received by relatives in Andover on Tuesday night announcing the death in Pasadena, Cal., of Mrs. Mary (Lindsay) Gillespie, a former resident of Andover and Lowell. Although no particulars regarding Mrs. Gillespie's decease have been received, it is known that she had been in poor health since last Christmas and that for the past few weeks she had failed rapidly.

Mrs. Gillespie was born in Arbroath, Scotland, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lindsay, and when a young woman came across the water with her parents, brothers and sisters, and settled in Andover. About forty years ago she married Isaac Gillespie and lived in Abbott Village, where four children were born: William, Alexander, Isabel and Laura. Alexander and Isabel (Mrs. Bernard Williams) have since passed away, and William and Laura are now residents of Pasadena, Cal. From Andover the family moved to Lowell and made their home there for many years before going west.

Mrs. Gillespie is survived by three brothers and two sisters: Rev. Robert S. Lindsay of York, Neb.; David S. Lindsay, Adam Lindsay and Mrs. Elizabeth Dundas of Andover, and Miss Minnie Lindsay of Hathorne. There are also a large number of nieces and nephews in Andover.

The body will be brought to Andover for interment, the funeral taking place probably Wednesday or Thursday of next week. Services were held yesterday afternoon in Pasadena.

Helped to Get Jobs

More than 500 jobless women, more than half of them with college training, found work in New York through the agency of the Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations in the year ended April 30, 1915, according to the third annual report of the bureau, issued not long ago. Many of that number became secretaries, companions, suffrage workers, librarians, settlement workers, workers in war relief and nurses. Others had unusual places. Three became saleswomen and demonstrators for an automobile company. Two others were employed by a bond and securities company to sell stocks among women. One became a rent collector and four took jobs as police agents and detectives.

Education City Girls Miss

City girls of any class rarely if ever have any domestic education or training, unless they get it in their schools. They are taught the boundaries of the United States and the source of the Nile; they learn that if you buy products at a certain price and sell at a higher you make money, but what to do with the money when you make it no one discusses. It is all making money or things, never the right use of money or things, that is impressed upon boys and girls from their primary class on to the bitter end. The children of well-to-do families in smaller places have opportunities for education in the real things of life which these others often lack, but since our grandmother's day education and training in home affairs within the home walls has been neglected to a dangerous degree.—Woman's World.

Nasal Organ Music

Carl Maria von Weber, the celebrated composer, wrote a piano piece which a friend pronounced unplayable, as one chord had a note in the centre which could not be reached by either hand. "Ach, see me do it!" answered the composer, and he struck the note with his nose.

LOCALNEWSNOTES

The Margaret Slattery class of the Free church held a social at the home of Miss Eva Howell, on Summer street last Saturday evening. During the evening a shower was tendered Miss Annie McGrath who was married on Wednesday of this week. Miss McGrath, or rather Mrs. Murray, has the best wishes of the class as she takes up her duties in a new home.

Three patrols of the Lawrence Boy Scouts will visit the South church Friday evening at eight o'clock in the vestry of the church. Indoor and outdoor sports will be held also refreshments will be served. The idea of this meeting is to inspire the boys of the South church in the Boy Scout movement. All boys are urged to make a special effort to be present.

Mistake of Average Man

With the best intention in the world the average man, especially in America, in endeavoring to give everything to his wife, has made it difficult for her to give adequately in return. Our modern American women are brought up too softly to develop heroic, or even deeply womanly, qualities. As far as that is true the cry "unsexed" has some justifications, but the feminists are the last group at which it should be leveled.—Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale in McClure's Magazine.

Confident Assertion

"Do you actually expect to stay at home and read all those books you are buying?" "Certainly. Till I get through paying for those books I won't have money enough to go downtown."

Queer ideas come into the minds of children and they often ask puzzling questions. For instance, one of our local suffragists was telling another of the great work for the cause being done by Mrs. Carrie Catt. Her little son paid close attention to her words and when she had completed her eulogistic remarks "floored" his mother and her friend by asking: "Has Mrs. Catt got any kittens?"

Cupid Early at Work

Sally Lunn relates a story about a fine little boy of nine, who was spending a lot of time at her house. She was puzzled whether he had fallen in love with her, her cooky board, or her own little boy's tool room. Then one day she asked him: "Aren't you in Mary's room at school?" Mary was her daughter, aged eight.

"Yes, I am," he replied.
"I think I have heard Mary speak of you."
"What did she say?" he asked, eagerly. "Did she say I was her feller?"
"No, I don't believe she did."
"Did she say I was trying to be?"
"No, I don't remember that she did."

But the climax of the story came a few evenings later at the dinner table, when Mary startled the family by announcing that she believed she'd marry a lawyer's son, when she grew up, because she thought a lawyer's son would have lots of brains, and any man with brains could make money. And the disturbed parents looked the boy's father up, and found that he was a lawyer!

TOWN WARRANT

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

ESSEX, SS: To either of the Constables of the Town of Andover.

In the name of the Commonwealth you are hereby required to notify and warn the inhabitants of said town who are qualified to vote in town affairs, to meet and assemble at the Town House, in said Andover, on Monday, the sixth day of March, 1916, at 6 o'clock A.M., to act on the following articles:

VERIFICATION OF DEPOSITS

Savings Banks in this Commonwealth are required by law to have their Pass Books verified every three years.

The numbers and amounts found in this Supplement have been taken from our books by a person not heretofore employed by the Bank.

Depositors are urged to make an immediate comparison, and if discrepancies are found, follow the directions on the first page of this Supplement.

This is a wise provision of law and requires your cooperation to make it effective.

There are 9254 accounts in the list, and it is our plan to have every Depositor see this Supplement.
